What are you grateful for today?

What's one aspect of your personality you like?
What are you grateful for today?

What is your favorite song and would it be your ambulance song?
What are you grateful for today?

What's something you discovered recently that you are unironically excited about?
What are you grateful for today?

You are an artist, so what's something you have created recently?