What are you grateful for today?

What is something that makes you lose track of time?
What are you grateful for today?

What is something you would fight for?
What are you grateful for today?

What is a hobby that you gave up that you wish you hadn't?